Vacation BIBLE School

On July 13-17, from 9 AM to 12 Noon, we are hosting a Catholic Vacation Bible School, called, "Around the World with the Saints and Virtues". All children in grades K to fifth are invited to this interactive experience. To make this possible, we need folks to donate materials for the crafts and/or support it with your financial donation. Look for an upcoming list of supplies needed and see how you can help. Also, lots of people are needed to staff this exciting stewardship faith outreach. Please call Rosellen, at 624-1271 ext. 212, and say you will help! More info to follow!

The Creed

Paul Turner

The Creed may not be the most boring part of Mass, but in many churches it contends mightily. It's long. It's the same thing week after week. It's hard to understand. People mumble it. You may hear people praise their church for its great music, an insightful preacher, outstanding lectors, beautiful art, or even convenient parking. But no one brags that their church has a rip-roaring experience at the Creed.

What to do? Some places just skip it. Others take the bull by the horns and sing it. You can even hear it sung in Latin if you know where to go.

The liturgy itself offers a couple ways to break the monotony. At children's Masses, for example, we can recite the Apostles' Creed instead of the Nicene Creed. You probably know the Apostles' Creed as the one that begins the rosary. It's shorter than the one we use on Sunday. That's supposed to make it more appealing to children.

Legend has it that the Apostles formulated the one named for them. History has it that the Council of Constantinople (381) formulated the beliefs proclaimed by the Council of Nicea in 325. The Nicene Creed found its way into the weekly liturgy at the end of the fifth century.

One way to add variety to the Creed is by turning it into a question and answer device. This happens at the Easter Vigil, and, in the United States, on Easter Sunday Masses. This practice restores the Creed to its most ancient structure. Back in the second and third centuries, creeds took this form at the baptism of new Christians. "Do you believe ...?" "I do." And down they'd go into the water. Ever since Mat thew closed his Gospel with Jesus urging us to baptize in the name of the Father, Son, and Holy Spirit, creeds have taken this three-part structure.

The purpose of the Creed is to express with conviction the heart of what we believe. It doesn't include Catholic issues the media like to chew on: celibacy, male leadership, and the church's positions on morality. Some elements of Catholic life have changed over the years and could change again. The Creed stays the same. Sadly, the secular press never gives us Easter headlines boasting, "Thousands Profess Faith in Christ at Easter Vigil." That's not news.

We know better. It's good news. It's worth saying over and over again, week after week, in a long, mantra that gives us unity, pride and faith.

WHAT IS STEWARDSHIP?

(Part 5 of 5)

As we strive to live as faithful and generous stewards, it is important that we understand all of the facets of stewardship. Here are just a few key aspects of stewardship. Stewardship is:

- Thankfulness - Stewardship calls us to be ever grateful for the gifts that God has given. Not only are we called to be grateful to God, but we also must be grateful to one another. Just as we thank God every day, a stewardship parish must also show gratitude, recognition and appreciation to those who have given generously to the support of the parish.
- Counter-Cultural - Stewardship is counter-cultural. While society encourages us to continually strive for more and more, stewardship helps us to recognize that we already have more than enough. In fact, we have enough to share.
- Discipleship - Stewardship is discipleship. We strive to put God first in all things and to follow where Our Lord might lead.

SHOP FAIR TRADE

When you choose to ask the questions: “Who grew this product? Were they paid a fair wage? Do they work in good conditions or a sweatshop? Is it made or grown locally? Could it be? How does my purchase affect the life of others and the environment?” You are beginning to change. When enough people change the way they have always shopped and become more conscious of the growers and the conditions they work in, then unfair structures will change. This economic movement is happening now and it is called FAIR TRADE! Connect faith and action and shop responsibly - that is stewardship, not consumerism! Remember we serve and sell Fair Trade coffee for $10/lb. and Fair Trade baking chocolate, available at coffee & donuts or in Crespi Stewardship Office. Call Rosellen x212.

Interfaith Outreach of Carmel

“Joining Hands to Make a Difference”

Faith communities in the Carmel zip codes formed the IOC two years ago with the express purpose of extending a helping hand of service to the Monterey County community. We encourage support for those outreach opportunities that we may not specifically have in our church:

- ♦ All Saints' Church Food Bank: Donate time bagging, money to purchase food, or donate food items. Much needed are cans of spaghetti sauce and cans of chili. Drop off at All Saints' church office, 9 AM – Noon / 1:00-4:00 PM, Monday-Thursday, Friday, mornings only. Call 624-3883 for more info.
- ♦ Hungry for Change - Ending Hunger: Join us in a letter writing campaign to encourage our Congressmen and Senators to support the Foreign Assistance Act; discuss the formation of a local chapter of "Bread for the World". Event will be on May 31, 2009, 3pm-5pm, at St. Philip's Lutheran Church (8065 Carmel Valley Rd. Carmel, CA 93923). Call (831) 624-6765 for info.

Caring for God's Creation

“God made the wild animals of the earth of every kind, and the cattle of every kind, and everything that creeps upon the ground of every kind. And God saw that it was good.”

- Genesis 1:25

A reflective reading of Genesis gives the reader an insight into the awesome creative power of bringing order out of chaos. This account is not a literal description of the how of nature, but more importantly the why did God make the world. Author, Stephen Binz suggests that “Its message is the good news that Creator and creation are bound together in a relationship that is trustworthy while at the same time delicate.” We are challenged today to respect that fragility of all life and question accepted ways of doing business and agriculture, while searching for more sustainable methods to meet our human needs. Supporting Fair Trade and local farmers (as our parish does) aids in the growing awareness of viable alternatives to the status quo.

BITTEN FALGE FARM WORKERS PROGRAM

We wish to thank the volunteers, who came out on April 23 to help us deliver 160 bags of rice to farm workers living in the four camps near Gonzales. Our next delivery is scheduled on May 28, and we would like to welcome any new volunteers, who would like to help us make this delivery. If interested, please contact Bob Condry, at (831) 625-2855.
